SALLY ANDERSON

Sally Anderson's work draws on personal experience relating to domesticity and motherhood, and second-hand experiences of landscapes to examine ways meaning and memory are held in object, language and place. She is particularly interested in notions of 'the souvenir' and the ways we authenticate experience and navigate notions of reality and truth in our daily lives. Anderson appropriates, borrows, and references both art historical paintings and seemingly unrelated everyday experiences in her work. She uses still life and landscape in metaphor (rather than subject) and her work deliberately dances between abstraction, figuration, representation, gesture and form. Stella Rosa McDonald writes 'her paintings are like wombs or libraries—where gestation and digestion are tacitly implied'.

Born in Lismore, Sally Anderson began her undergraduate studies in Visual Art at Southern Cross University before transferring to the College of Fine Art in Sydney. A past finalist in the Sulman Prize at the Art Gallery of New South Wales, the Portia Geach Memorial Award, the Sunshine Coast Art Prize and the Paddington Art Prize, Anderson was invited to participate in the Association of Icelandic Visual Artists residency in Reykjavik, Iceland, in 2014. In 2017 Sally Anderson won the prestigious Brett Whiteley Travelling Art Scholarship administered by the Art Gallery of New South Wales and completed a three month residency at the Cite des Artes in Paris.
